

NAHRIKHERA FORT

A Living Heritage of the Naruka Family

Near Phagi, Jaipur, Rajasthan

MUSEUM CATALOGUE • HERITAGE SERIES • VOL. I • 2024

ABOUT NAHRIKHERA FORT

HERITAGE & HISTORY

Nahrikhera Fort is a historical heritage property associated with the Naruka Family.

According to family-provided information, the fort was established approximately 700 years ago by Bharat Singh Ji, marking its origins to the 14th century. The fort stands as a testament to the enduring legacy of the Naruka lineage, whose ancestors have stewarded this site through generations.

LOCATION & DETAILS

- Location: Near Phagi, Jaipur, Rajasthan, India
- Coordinates: 26.547387, 75.439604
- Heritage: ancestral stronghold of the Naruka family, reflecting Rajput architectural traditions and regional history

The fort remains a quiet symbol of heritage and continuity, nestled amidst the rural landscape of Phagi, offering insight into the cultural and historical continuity of the region.

SURROUNDING LANDSCAPE • PHAGI REGION

The surrounding landscape near Nahrikhera Fort, Phagi — open grasslands, scattered trees, and gentle countryside typical of the Jaipur region.

HISTORY OF NAHRIKHERA FORT

— Heritage Record • Traditional Timeline —

HISTORICAL RULERSHIP

- ✿ The fort is approximately 700 years old according to provided family information.
- ✿ Bharat Singh Ji is founder/first ruler.
- ✿ Fort associated with Naruka Family.

PRESENT OWNERSHIP

- ✿ Govind Singh Ji – last ruler / last Jagirdaar
- ✿ Dayal Singh Ji – present owner

Note: Historical rulership and present ownership presented separately.

THE HOUSE OF NARUKA

PREMIUM POLISHED MUSEUM CATALOGUE • FAMILY LINEAGE

— LINEAGE & DESCENT — NARUKA DYNASTY

Bajrang Singh Ji

Jagirdaar • Founder of the Lineage

Sawai Singh Ji

Jagirdaar • Successor and Land Administrator

Govind Singh Ji

Last Jagirdaar • Final Holder of the Jagir

Dayal Singh Ji

Present Owner • Medical Profession
*Transitioned the legacy into modern medicine
— serving as a physician*

Mahaveer Singh Ji

Para SF Commando • Special Forces

Yash Vardhan

Student • Pursuing Higher Education

Shaurya Vardhan

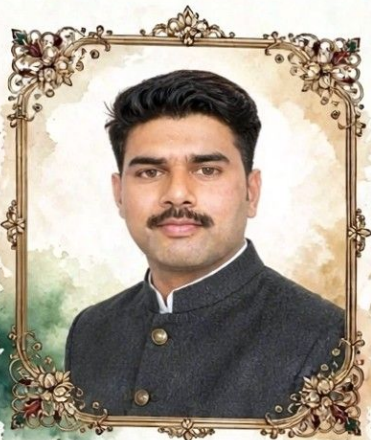

Student • Pursuing Higher Education

— LEGACY NOTE: —

The House of Naruka embodies a continuum of duty, honor, and service — from feudal stewardship and land administration to contribution in medicine and the armed forces. The present generation carries forward the tradition through learning and commitment to the nation.

PEOPLE OF NAHRIKHERA

Premium Polished Museum Catalogue • Lineage & Contemporary Profiles

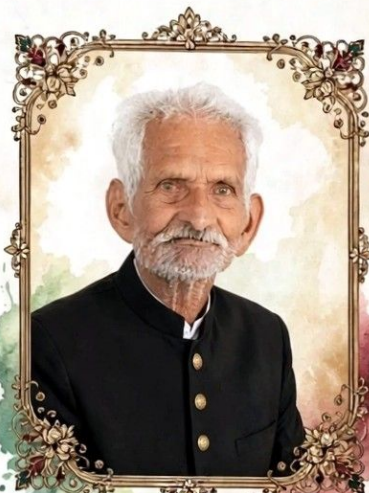

Mahaveer Singh Ji
Para SF Commando

Shaurya Vardhan
Student

Yash Vardhan
Student

Dayal Singh Ji
Medical Professional

LINEAGE & LEGACY

- Bharat Singh Ji - Founder of Lineage
- Govind Singh Ji - Succeeded as Jagirdar
- Bajrang Singh Ji - Jagirdar After Many Generations

RULERS & OWNERSHIP

*Historical rulership and present ownership
presented separately.*

HISTORICAL RULERSHIP

FIRST RULER • FOUNDER

Bharat Singh Ji

Established the Jagir • c. 1750s

Founder of the lineage, credited with establishing governance, land grants, and regional administration in the territory. Noted for early fortification and patronage of local temple.

LAST RULER • LAST JAGIRDAR

Govind Singh Ji

Reigned until 1949 • Final Jagirdar

Last to hold traditional ruling authority prior to integration. Oversaw transition of local governance in the mid-20th century. Recognized for philanthropy and community stewardship.

PRESENT OWNERSHIP

CURRENT OWNER

Dayal Singh Ji

Present Custodian • Present Day

Current holder and steward of the estate and heritage holdings. Responsible for preservation of heritage, archival records, and cultural legacy. Continues patronage of restoration and community initiatives.

 This catalogue presents historical rulership records alongside current ownership for archival and educational purposes only. All lineage details are documented per museum archives.*

ARCHITECTURE & ROYAL HERITAGE

Three-arched colonnade, featuring carved pillars and weathered plaster walls, a classic example of traditional fort architecture.

Elevated arcade with three arched openings set above the fortified wall, showcasing traditional plastered construction and historic patina.

Key Features

- Traditional arches
Classic pointed arches characteristic of regional heritage design
- Pillars
Carved stone pillars providing structural support and ornate depicting
- Arched openings
Multiple arched openings enabling airflow, light, and symmetrical composition
- Large entrance gate
Imposing gateway entrance emblematic of fortified heritage structures
- Traditional facade
Weathered plastered facade displaying classic textured finish
- Old plastered walls
Aged plaster walls with natural weathered and organic patina
- Decorative details
Fine moldings, subtle ornamental detailing and carved elements
- Heritage-style construction
Traditional masonry construction using local methods and materials

— Preserved heritage architecture, reflecting historical craftsmanship and royal cultural legacy —

MANDIR & SPIRITUAL HERITAGE

premium polished museum catalogue

A mandir is documented within/around the heritage property through provided photograph. The exact historical background, date, architectural history and religious significance have not been provided and must not be invented.

Fig. 1 — Mandir structure viewed amid open farmland, surrounded by trees and fields. The structure is shown with its small domed roof and arched entrance, documented in its present rural setting with fields and transmission towers visible in the distance.

Fig. 2 — Mandir structure located on the eastern section of the property, shown from a distance within open grassland. The building is shown surrounded by scattered trees and open fields, captured from a wide landscape view.

Documentation Note • This entry is based solely on the provided photographs. No history, date, or religious significance is recorded beyond what can be visually observed.

THE LAND AROUND NAHRIKHERA

- Extensive green landscape
- Trees and vegetation
- Open grassy areas
- Agricultural rural landscape
- Natural surroundings
- Open grounds around fort

Fig. 9.1 — Extensive green landscape with native trees and vegetation, showing open grassy areas and transmission lines in the distant agricultural rural periphery

Fig. 9.2 — Sloped open grounds with grassy terrain and scattered trees, illustrating natural surroundings and open grounds around the fort

VISUAL ARCHIVE

Heritage Sites & Rural Landscapes • Rajasthan Hinterland • Documented July 2024

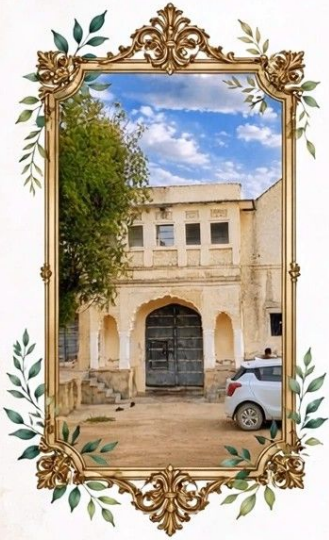

Fig. 1 — Fort Structure, Weathered Sandstone Edifice with Arched Entrance

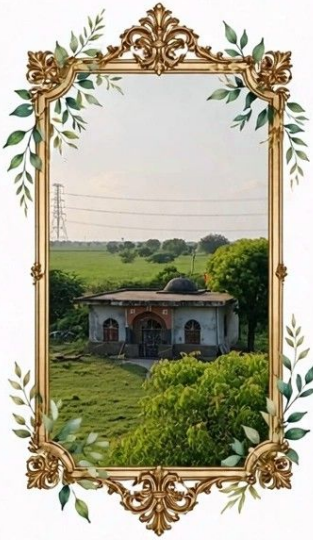

Fig. 2 — Rural Mandir, Small Shrine Amidst Grassfields and Powerlines

Fig. 3 — Mandir View, Shrine Nestled in Open Pasture

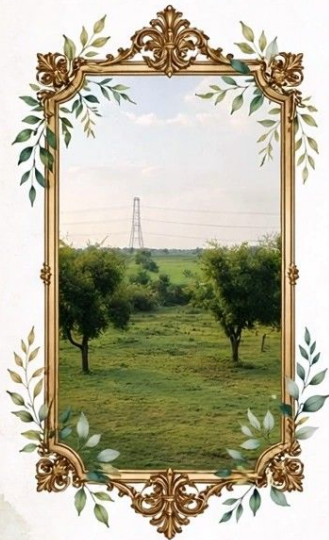

Fig. 4 — Landscape, Scrubland with Transmission Lines

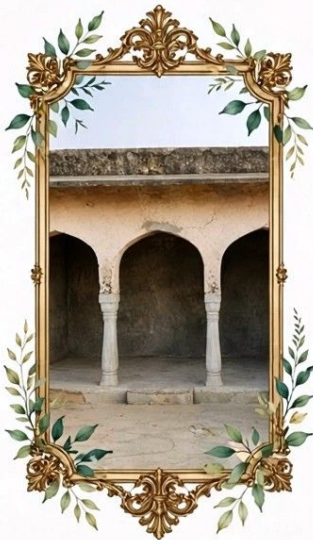

Fig. 5 — Colonnade, Triple-Arched Pavilion, Weathered Plaster

Fig. 6 — Rampart Ruin, Partial Structure with Three Arches

LOCATION OF NAHRIKHERA FORT

OVERVIEW

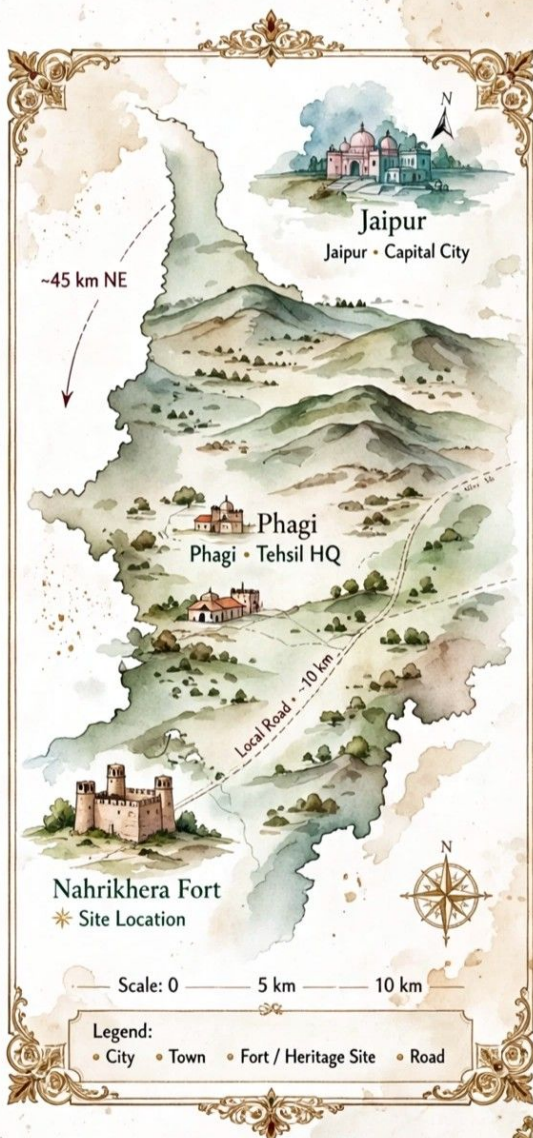

Nahrikhera Fort, Near Phagi,
Jaipur, Rajasthan, India

Coordinates: 26.547387, 75.439604

Located on the rural outskirts of Phagi, roughly 10 km southwest of Phagi town and approximately 45 km southwest of Jaipur, Nahrikhera Fort sits amid the gently rolling Aravalli foothills of eastern Rajasthan. The fort is a motdst historic stronghold, now in ruin, known for its stone bastions and perimeter walls dating to the 18th–19th century. It served as a local watchpost oversesing trade routes between Jaipur and the southern hinterlands. The site is accessed via rural roads from Phagi, surrounded by dry scrubland and agricultural fields, and is noted for its remote, quiet setting.

KEY DETAILS

- District: Jaipur
- Tehsil: Phagi
- Elevation: ~370 m AMSL
- Access: Rural road from Phagi (~10 km)

LOCATION SUMMARY

- Position: 26.547387°N, 75.439604°E
- Rural site near Phagi, Jaipur District, Rajasthan, India

NOTES

- Open site / No formal entry
- Nearest transport: Phagi (10 km)
- Visit: Daytime, local guide recommended

Page 12

A LIVING HERITAGE

"A living heritage of the Naruka family, preserved through generations."

This 19th-century haveli stands as a testament to the Naruka family's enduring legacy — its weathered walls and traditional architecture preserved through generations of stewardship, reflecting regional craft and cultural history of Rajasthan.

HERITAGE RECORD

Page 13

RAJASTHAN FORTS & PALACES
MUSEUM CATALOGUE • VOLUME II • RAJPUT HERITAGE SERIES

NAHRIKHERA FORT

A Legacy of the Naruka Family | Jaipur Region

FIELD	DETAIL
Fort Name	Nahrikhera Fort
Location	Near Phagi, Jaipur, Rajasthan, India
Coordinates	26.547387 75.439604
Associated Family	Naruka Family
Approximate Age	Nearly 700 years • family-provided
Founder / First Ruler	Bharat Singh Ji
Last Ruler	Last Jagirdaar Govind Singh Ji
Present Owner	Dayal Singh Ji

NOTES:

- The fort is held under traditional custodianship by the Naruka family for nearly seven centuries. Records maintained through family oral lineage and historical documents.
- Structure reflects medieval Rajput architecture; now maintained as a heritage property.

Page 14

THE LEGACY CONTINUES

— ELEGANT LINEAGE —
NARUKA FAMILY

Bajrang Singh Ji

Sawai Singh Ji

Govind Singh Ji

Dayal Singh Ji

Mahaveer Singh Ji

Yash Vardhan

Shaurya Vardhan

"A Living Heritage of the Naruka Family"

Nahrikhera Fort • Near Phagi • Jaipur • Rajasthan

Preserving History • Honouring Ancestry • Inspiring Future Generations